Department	Position Title
Finance	Senior Administrative Coordinator
Position Number(s)	Community	Division/Region(s)
15-0294	Yellowknife	Directorate

PURPOSE OF THE POSITION

The Senior Administrative Coordinator position is directly responsible and accountable for providing senior corporate level operational leadership and support services within the Department in order to ensure effective operation of the Deputy Minister's office and efficient processes between the offices of the Deputy Ministers, Premier/Ministers and the departments. This position provides guidance and support to Directors responsible for hiring, training, managing and the supervision of administrative professional staff for the department and provides corporate leadership support to the Deputy Ministers Executive Secretaries Committee.

This position provides objective analysis and broad advice on services relating to the administrative management of the individual department and GNWT wide.

SCOPE

This is a unique position dealing with highly confidential operations critical to the administration of government.

The position establishes and maintains standards and provides leadership support by facilitating courses in the Administrative Professionals Training Program including offering instruction in GNWT communication standards and procedures, and time management. The incumbent mentors and arranges for mentorship opportunities to interested/incoming Administrative Professionals identified for succession planning within respected department and those that have identified an interest through the Administrative Professionals Training Program and community.

It is expected that the incumbent will provide expertise and credible delivery of services and support directly to individuals at the highest levels of government. The incumbent is required to have comprehensive knowledge of the political, economic and social factors impacting governance in the Northwest Territories and may be asked to discern and extract, from lengthy discussions, those key elements necessary to accurately record and document SMC meetings and escalate issues that warrant immediate attention in an effective and timely manner.

The Senior Administrative Coordinator reports directly to the Deputy Minister and has a functional relationship with other/additional departmental Senior Managers and liaises with the Minister's office as well as all GNWT Deputy Ministers offices.

The incumbent must possess experience and expertise of a wide range of skills: management, communication, organization, analytical thinking, public relations, diplomacy, a sound knowledge of current and evolving relevant GNWT policies, programs, issues and developments, as well as leadership skills, confidentiality, tactfulness, and the ability to liaise with administrative professionals and oversee the management of administrative assistants.

The incumbent is the subject matter expert and decision maker on administrative support, management and coordination, providing advice and direct support to all departmental Senior Management on these matters. The incumbent manages the provision of administrative and human resource support services to Directors for the hiring, training, mentoring and overseeing of all departmental administrative staff or by directly providing service in lieu of staff, to ensure overall efficiency in the administrative functioning of the Department. The incumbent offers direct operational support to the Deputy Minister, all Senior Managers and all related divisions, through the coordination and provision of administrative support or services. The department's image and credibility and that of the Minister and Premier depend upon timely response to correspondence, reviews of submissions, policy papers, issue summaries and reports, ensuring that they are grammatically accurate and comply with GNWT visual identity and communications protocols, protocols outlined in government direction, meet standards outlined in the Process Convention and are well written and clearly presented. Decisions resulting in poor quality of work, delays in meeting deadlines and errors made in performing duties could create embarrassment to the organization. Breaches of confidentiality and/or the provision of inaccurate/incorrect information can have serious legal and political implications.

The incumbent is expected to anticipate and prepare for the needs and affairs of the Deputy Minister, Assistant Deputy Minister, and at times Senior Management, which require discretion and understanding of relationships between various divisions or functions in the organization, Deputy Minister Committees and Committees of Cabinet, and Government departments. The incumbent deals daily in person or on the telephone with a variety of contacts, including departmental staff, officials from other government departments, representatives from a wide variety of organizations and the general public.

This position is a main point of contact for the Minister's office. The incumbent must be able to handle the additional responsibility of handling requests for information and direction on various issues as and when required by the Minister's office.

The incumbent is the focal point of access to or contact with the Deputy Minister and Assistant Deputy Minister(s), and as such, determines the acceptability, relevance, urgency and priority of information for meetings or discussions with the Deputy Minister and Assistant Deputy Minister(s) . This requires the incumbent to exercise the utmost tact, discretion and good judgment, particularly when dealing with senior public and private sector and elected officials on a wide variety of urgent, highly confidential, political or publicly visible policy and program issues. Since the Deputy Minister/Assistant Deputy Minister(s) office(s) is the focus for numerous requests for information and demands for action from members of the public, MLAs, the media, lobbyists and public interest groups, the incumbent is required to deal with, evaluate and assess the sensitivity, urgency, relevance and priority of such requests, and to report them to and/or consult with senior departmental executives in the development of appropriate responses.

The incumbent may be asked to participate as a member or recording secretary for the Department's Senior Management Committee (SMC). This requires the development of meeting agendas and minutes and providing input for the Department's office management as appropriate, to communicate information on decisions taken or action requests to be carried out, and to follow-up and report on the status of such activities or actions.

This position takes on special projects as and when required by Senior Management.
