Department	Position Title
Finance	Senior Analyst, Projects
Position Number	Community	Division/Region
15-7674	Yellowknife	Strategic Human Resources

PURPOSE OF THE POSITION

The Senior Analyst, Projects (Senior Analyst) is responsible for leading the planning, coordination, implementation and review of various large and/or complex reorganization and evaluation projects, providing specialized organizational design and analysis services to client departments to ensure the effective organization and evaluation of all GNWT positions, in accordance with the Hay Job Evaluation system, in order to maintain the integrity of the job evaluation system and meet the requirements of pay equity legislation, the Collective Agreement and the GNWT's job evaluation process. The Senior Analyst is also responsible for organizing, leading and implementing Hay Evaluation Job Family review projects.

SCOPE

Located in Yellowknife, the position reports to the Manager, Job Evaluation and Organizational Design. The Senior Analyst is a subject area expert in both organizational planning and job evaluation using the Hay methodology. The Senior Analyst works independently under the general direction of the Manager to assist GNWT departments, boards and agencies with organizational modeling to align functions with mandates. The Senior Analyst also ensures jobs are evaluated in an appropriate and consistent manner, using the Hay Job Evaluation methodology.

The position also coordinates and supports the work of The Hay Group when it is contracted for very large or time-sensitive organization and/or evaluation projects, overseeing contract deliverables and guiding Hay Group as applicable in GNWT-specific organizational and/or politically sensitive contexts. The position also participates in the project alongside Hay Principals, ensuring consistency and enabling smooth connections with other areas of Finance's Human Resource Branch as required.

The Senior Analyst will also be responsible for post-implementation reviews and recommendations following large reorganizations identified by the Manager.

The position will also be tasked with leading the planning, coordination and execution of reviews of GNWT Hay Job Families, including coordinating the creation and facilitation of subject matter expert working groups trained in Hay methodology, and ensuring that the work of the group is consistent with the integrity of the evaluation system. The Senior Analyst is also responsible for drafting communications to client departments regarding the job review work plan and subsequent position reviews for the job stream in question.

The Department of Finance is responsible for implementing and maintaining standards and processes respecting the job evaluation system and for carrying out the evaluation of all GNWT Public Service jobs (except NWTTA teaching jobs). Along with the Job Analysts, the Senior Analyst is an expert source supporting the implementation of the job evaluation processes and ensuring the integrity of the job evaluation system. Finance staff and Department Managers and Senior Managers will regularly consult with the unit for job evaluation advice including organizational design, position management, the Hay Job Evaluation process, the maintenance of evaluation job families and benchmarks, and the appeal process.

Through the process of job evaluation, a job's relative worth in the organization is determined. In turn, through another process, the pay for a position is determined. In order to pay individuals fairly for the work required, the process of job evaluation must accurately reflect the true nature of the work being done. These processes are carried out in accordance with the Hay Evaluation Methodology, the Collective Agreement between the GNWT and the Union of Northern Workers, the Excluded Employees' Handbook, the Senior Managers' Handbook, the Human Resource Manual, and payroll and pay equity legislation and policy.

There is always a challenge to maintain an evaluation system that fairly and accurately reflects job values. This is particularly the case when there is a shortage of skilled workers and pressure to address market issues through evaluation. The work of the Senior Analyst requires it to maintain the integrity of the system while being open and sensitive to the variations and commonalities between different work contexts and jobs performed in those different environments.
