SCOPE

The Regional Superintendent, Sahtu (Superintendent) is located in Norman Wells and reports to the Assistant Deputy Minister, Regional Operations, who provides broad strategic leadership in the areas of policy oversight and program delivery. The Superintendent is delegated full expenditure authority, and the budget allocation for regional program delivery is fully decentralized. The Superintendent is accountable to the Assistant Deputy Minister for overall performance in the delivery of regional programs and budget management.

MACA is responsible for the development and maintenance of community governments, responsive and responsible to the residents, with sufficient legal authority and resources to carry out community responsibilities, to provide public programs and services essential to good community life and to deal effectively with other government organizations. The Department is also responsible for protecting the interests of consumers. The Department accomplishes this mandate through supporting capable, accountable and self-directed community governments in providing a safe, sustainable and healthy environment for community residents.

MACA is highly decentralized in the delivery of its programs and services. Its regional offices operate in a complex environment serving remote and often isolated communities with limited capacity, extreme weather conditions, short construction seasons, challenging seasonal transportation logistics and close proximity to an active political environment.

The Superintendent represents the Department in the region and is highly accessible to local politicians, community governments, band councils, self-government organizations, contractors and individual citizens, and must be able to respond to highly sensitized and politicized issues and situations.

The Superintendent provides advice and support to community governments on a range of issues and topics, including advising community governments on governance, budgeting, debt recovery, and sound financial management and reporting; and supports community governments in the planning exercises for land use, emergency management, capital investment and asset management.

The Superintendent is responsible for the direct delivery of several programs, including: emergency preparedness, emergency management and administration of the Emergency Management Act; public safety delivered in collaboration with the Office of the Fire Marshal; consumer, lottery, business and real estate agent licensing and responding to consumer complaints; collaboration with the School of Community Government on coordination and delivery of training programs for community government employees; and collaboration with the Sport, Recreation and Youth Division on the delivery of sport, physical activity and recreation programming.

The Superintendent also supports the delivery of federal infrastructure programs for community governments, including the Canada Community-Building Fund and other federal infrastructure agreements. Implementation of federal programs, oversight and reporting on use of federal funds is provided primarily through the regional offices with support from Headquarters (HQ).

The Superintendent works within a diverse legislative and policy framework and carries out its responsibilities in accordance with Government of the Northwest Territories (GNWT) legislation, regulations, policies and procedures, including the Financial Administration Act, Public Service Act, and Financial Administration Manual.

MACA is responsible for the administration of 20 statutes, seven Executive Council policies, and 20 Ministerial policies. The Superintendent must have an in-depth knowledge of departmental policies and legislation, as well as a familiarity with local community government by-laws, and must be able to explain their application to community governments.

The Superintendent must meet the sometimes-conflicting needs of territorial, regional, community and individual stakeholders, and anticipate problems before they occur. The Superintendent must make every effort to involve community governments, agencies and other stakeholders in program delivery, in keeping with settled and unsettled land claims, self-government agreements and other initiatives. The position demands a high level of sensitivity to local and northern issues and requires the ability to select and apply effective approaches that foster long-term positive working relationships, and support training and capacity building within the region.

The Superintendent works with regional leadership of other GNWT departments and agencies on matters that impact community government program delivery and capacity. The Superintendent is a member of the interdepartmental Regional Management Committee chaired by the Regional Director of the Department of Executive and Indigenous Affairs.

The Superintendent chairs the Sahtu Regional Emergency Management Organization (EMO). Under the leadership of the Superintendent, the Regional EMO leads the activities of the GNWT in relation to emergency mitigation, preparedness, response and recovery; and is the lead authority for emergency management programs in the region.
